Volume XXIII—Issue 42

Do You Have An Agenda?

Do you have an agenda? I must confess that I do. In fact, I have a number of them.

It's pretty amazing how words take on different meanings and fall in and out of public favor. Think about how words like "traditional" have become such negatively-powerful words. If you want to poison an idea, all you have to do is label it "traditional." Or, to flip the coin over, you can label something as "cutting-edge" and charge whatever you want to for it! It will sell—whether it's a product or an idea.

But back to my question about having an agenda . . . anyone who doesn't have an agenda is wandering aimlessly. To have an agenda means that you have a plan; a goal. So the problem is not that you have an agenda . . . in fact, the problem is not having one. Or, more specifically, the problem most often is—having a hidden agenda. Hidden issues develop trust issues . . . manipulation issues.

As Christians we have an agenda but we do not have hidden agendas. Listen to what Paul says about this very thing—" . . . We have renounced secret and shameful ways; we do not use deception, nor do we distort the word of God. On the contrary, by setting forth the truth plainly we commend ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God." II Corinthians 4:2.

I have an agenda. In fact I have several. I have a personal agenda, an agenda for my family, one for the church, one for every person I can influence. It has to do with Heaven and how to get there. I don't have to hide it. I don't have to resort to deceptive, hidden, veiled methods to accomplish it. In fact, this agenda is accomplished only by telling the truth and telling it plainly.

- Ken Stegall
