Volume XXIX—Issue 4

HOW MANY TIMES?

Have you ever asked yourself why the Lord became angry at Israel so often when they were wandering in the desert? On more than one occasion he became so angry that he killed many of them. And when they settled in the land he gave them, he sent other nations to punish them.

Have you ever done everything in your power to consistently prove to someone how much you love them only to have them repeatedly say, “You don’t really love me!”?

Do you suppose at some point you would become weary of being manipulated to prove your love? Would you resent all your prior efforts and sacrifices being ignored or dismissed by having your love questioned repeatedly?

At some point the person who is the object of your affection should cease questioning your love and devotion. They should trust that you do love them and will provide everything you can for them.

God has consistently proved his love and ability to care for us. He has never failed us. He has kept back nothing that we need – even when we needed a redeemer, he sacrificed his son.

Listen to this – “He who did not spare his own son, but gave him up for us all – how will he not also, along with him graciously give us all things?” Romans 8:32.

Has God given you reason to trust him? If so, then you might want to quit questioning him every time something happens in your life that you don’t like. He might get tired of you questioning his love. “You can’t please God if you don’t trust him.” (paraphrase of Heb. 11:6)

-Ken Stegall

This year's competition will be March 26-28 at Camp Bandina in Bandera, TX. If you are interested in participating, or simply want more information about the competition contact Jennifer Tolbert.

Thank You

Dear WOCC,

Thank you for the plant sent to my house after the loss of my son, Jordan Love. There were cookies and pumpkin bread too-making the gesture that much sweeter.

In Him, Leslie McCracken
